All that is needed is a bureaucratic formalism or form of life which will sediment it into a process which forms into a formal process like individual behavior guided to a ethos or habitus.

- I. Highest Capital like Genoa

Genoese merchants finally formed a house and office ethos - which is where they met in a small housing and living area which they made into the word in Jewish "ethos". An ethos is something which is a living way of keeping the meeting continue and live like a real living thing. It creates the correct life and also the correct way of billing and sharing of ideas which mounted the cycle from the normal unequal exchange to the highest capital, and formed the hegemon.
